

I am happier...

Mid-Autumn festival comes real in my Kindergarten school celebration today, and I have only started school one month ago!

I can sing Chinese song, rhyme poems , hmmm quite well, write my Chinese characters, not much.....but enough to get me started.

My playmates in the playground hear me sing my Chinese song, my mom has confirmed from their mommies it's Chinese for sure.

So, you see, I can really sing a Chinese song...
